Green candidate for Golden State U.S. Senate seat has roots in Bethel

Todd Chretien, grandson of two former Maine state legislators from Bethel, is seeking to become the next U.S. senator from California.

By MICHAEL DANIELS
Chretien, 36, is the Green Party candidate in the upcoming race for the U. S. Senate seat currently held by Democrat Dianne Feinstein.
Chretien is the grandson of Addison and Emily Saunders, who lived at 63 Main Street in Bethel.
The Saunders, Democrats, each served terms in the Maine Legislature in the 1960s and '70s.
Chretien's paternal grandparents, Vi and Don Chretien, were also from Bethel, and Sue Farrar is his grandaunt.

Chretien parents, Eileen and Mike, grew up in Bethel and graduated from Gould Academy.
They raised their sons, Todd and Joel, on a horse farm in Gray-New Gloucester, but the family continued to spend part of their summers at the Saunders' camp on Songo Pond — along with Addison and Emily's 16 other grandchildren.
Todd Chretien moved to Oakland, Calif., in 1994, but he is back in Maine this week, wrapping up an East Coast speaking and fundraising tour.

Tough fight ahead
When he returns to California, Chretien faces an uphill battle.
He is running against a popular and powerful two-term Democratic incumbent.
Feinstein's position is considered so secure that the California Republican Party has yet to find a credible candidate willing to run against her.

In polling for hypothetical races against two possible GOP opponents, California Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger and U.S. Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice, Feinstein easily prevailed.
But Feinstein does have one significant vulnerability — her vote for, and continued support of President Bush's increasingly unpopular war in Iraq.
Chretien is running primarily

SNOW FOR THE FIELDS

The annual Bill Koch New England Ski Festival will go ahead as scheduled this weekend, thanks to the generosity of area ski resorts and organizations and the hard work of Mike Cooper and Jeremy Nellis of the Bethel Inn Nordic Center.
The festival, expected to draw some 2,000 youngsters and their parents, was scheduled to take place at the Bethel Inn and Gould Academy ski trails. But the lack of snow prompted organizers to make the man-made white stuff on the lower athletic fields at Gould, where Saturday's events will take place. Late Tuesday afternoon, with temperatures in the teens, Nellis literally fired up this snow gun by thawing the water line leading to it with a torch. Two snow-guns were borrowed from Black Mountain, the water hoses from Sunday River and Black Mountain, and the pumps from the Andover Fire Department and the Pineland Center. The water was pumped from Mill Brook. Sunday's festival events have been moved to Black Mountain.

Former animal control officer faces numerous charges

By MICHAEL DANIELS
A former animal control officer for Bethel, Greenwood and several other northern Oxford County towns is now in Oxford County jail, facing charges of kidnapping, terrorizing, burglary and attempting to elude police.
Everett E. Chase, 45, of 24 Alcohol Mary Road in Greenwood, may also face federal charges, his attorney said Tuesday.
Chase was arrested last Thursday following a police chase that ended near the intersection of Route 219 and the Greenwood Road.
Police say that approximately 10 a.m. that morning,

Chase abducted his estranged wife, Lisa, from her Rumford home.
At the time he allegedly broke into the house, Chase's wife was on the phone with a caseworker, who immediately contacted Rumford police.
A search then ensued, which involved state, county and municipal law enforcement units.
Chase was spotted a half-hour later on the Richardson Hollow Road in Greenwood. After a pursuit lasting less than a quarter hour, police were able to spike the tires of Town Meeting season begins

'Puppy mill' ordinance goes to W. Paris voters

By MICHAEL DANIELS
With no major ordinance proposals or new big-ticket items on the agenda, West Paris voters can probably anticipate a quiet Town Meeting Saturday.
Voters will elect two new selectmen.
Incumbent Jim Johnston is completing his three-year term and not seeking re-election.

There are two announced candidates for the openings, former selectman Wade Rainey and newcomer Jeff Shock.
Other names may be proposed from the floor.
The only new regulatory proposal calls for an ordinance to prohibit the operation of so-called "puppy mills" — breeding facilities for dogs (or cats) that are not regulated and licensed by proper state and federal authorities.
The new ordinance would not prohibit properly licensed facilities.
The town has not had any problems with unlicensed facilities, said Town Manager Don Woodbury, but the ordinance was proposed to prevent this potential source of animal abuse.

A public hearing on the ordinance, held last Thursday, was sparsely attended, Woodbury said, and no significant objections were raised to the Road, grange projects on warrant in Newry

By ALISON ALOISIO
At their annual Town Meeting on Monday, Newry voters will consider a $691,565 municipal budget that includes improvements to the Grange Hall and to town roads.
The municipal budget, (which does not include school and county costs), is up about $75,000 over last year.
Townpeople will also decide on several proposed ordinance changes or additions, among them fire safety and shoreland zoning issues.

Roads
Selectmen are recommending that $75,000 be raised toward road improvements to the intersection of the Sunday River/Monkey Brook roads, the outer Sunday River Road, a section of Skiway Road, and possibly the Lone Pine Road and the bridge on Branch Brook Road.

The intersection work is estimated at $75,000 to $80,000. It would include cutting down a rise in the road to improve visibility, as well as realigning the intersection.
There is $50,000 currently in the Highway Capital Improvement Reserve Account.

The Highways and Bridges Account (for maintenance) is proposed at $87,500, up $7,000 over last year. Increased fuel and other costs are cited.
Grange Hall improvements would include paving the driveway, installing new upstairs lights and installing a lift on the stairs for the

Upton considers allowing ATVs on town roads

By ALISON ALOISIO
Two issues — allowing ATVs on Upton roads and changing the Town Meeting to September — top the 32 warrant articles up for a vote at the March 9 annual Town Meeting.
Most money articles show little change from last year, said Town Clerk Jim Rector. He expects "not a large increase" in the 10.5 mill rate, which dropped last year.

The ATV article proposes that the machines be allowed on town roads between 5 a.m. and 10 p.m., subject to state guidelines.
"People with four-wheelers want to be able to ride the roads to get to the trails," he said.
The article is on the warrant at the request of the local AT-Vers, he said. Selectmen are not making a recommendation.

"They felt the town should decide," Rector said.
Also on the warrant is a proposed change in Upton's accounting year from the calendar year to July 1/June 30. The change would coincide with school accounting years.
If approved, the Town Meeting date would also change, to September.

The article was suggested by the town auditor, Rector said. Selectmen have no recommendation on it, again preferring voters decide.

Townpeople will also be asked to authorize the appointment of a committee to

REVIVE-A-PET UPDATE

To the Editor:

Last November I established the Revive-A-Pet fund to raise money to donate animal resuscitation equipment to local fire departments.

The public response has been overwhelming. Thanks to the generosity of local individuals and businesses, we have raised enough money to purchase kits for five towns. Kits have already been delivered to Bethel, Gilead, and Greenwood fire departments. Kits have been purchased for Newry and Andover and will be delivered soon.

These kits provide life-saving oxygen for animals caught in a fire or injured in an accident. Each kit costs approximately $300 and contains resuscitation equipment adaptable for any size dog or cat. They are fully re-usable with no disposable parts, and will be a permanent addition to the department.

We are continuing to accept donations and will deliver kits to more towns as money becomes available. Donations of any size are welcomed and can be sent to: Revive-A-Pet Fund, c/o Northeast Bank, PO Box 850, Bethel, ME 04217.

If anyone would like to purchase an entire kit to donate to their own town or would like more information on how to start a fund in their area, I can be contacted Wednesday through Friday at the Bethel Animal Hospital at 824-2212.

DAFFODIL DAYS CAMPAIGN

To the Editor:

Welcome spring early this year in the form of flowers by supporting the 2006 American Cancer Society Daffodil Days Campaign beginning March 23. The daffodil is the flower of hope for cancer patients and their families. Purchasing daffodils for family, friends, neighbors, customers, and employees can brighten their days, desks or dinner tables.

Contributions received through the sale of the daffodils help to keep the Cancer Society's vital resources in place for those in Maine communities who are or have been affected by cancer. By purchasing bouquets of these first flowers of spring, people in the Bethel area give hope and help to those who need it most.

Daffodils are available in bouquets of 10 flowers for $7. Or, for a donation of $20, "The Gift of Hope" is a bouquet of 10 daffodils in a glass vase, and given as an anonymous gift to cancer patients and others in need. This year also marks the addition of "Flowers R Hope," a special Boyds Bear designed exclusively for the American Cancer Society daffodil days. Bear and a Bunch can be preordered for a donation of $25 and includes a limited edition 12-inch tall plush bear and a bouquet of daffodils.

Orders can be placed now by calling me at 824-2747. The deadline for pre-orders is Monday, March 6. Pre-orders (of four or more bouquets) will be delivered on Thursday, March 23. Volunteers will also be selling daffodils at the Bethel Foodliner on Thursday and Friday (March 23 and 24).

GIRLS' ASSOC. SEEKS SUPPORT

To the Editor:

You may have seen the photo in the paper last week of middle school girls dogsledding as a part of the Tapestry Project. You may be asking yourself what is this program.

The Tapestry Project is a program of the WMGA that combines physical adventure with art and discussion. The middle school years are ones with much physical and psychological growth. The goal of the program is to push the girls into their changing bodies and connect with them as strong and capable while also giving them tools for self-expression so they can explore their inner world. There will be an art show in May of the girls' works. This is timed to happen during "Turn Beauty Inside Out" Month, which is a national movement to redefine beauty. Watch the calendar for the event.

The mission of the WMGA is to promote programs to enhance the life of girls. The other program being offered by the WMGA is the nationally acclaimed Girls on the Run program. This is a running-character development program for elementary aged girls. If this is an organization that you would like to be involved with, we currently have two openings on our Board of Directors.

Specifically we are in need of people with fiscal experience and organizational skills. If you do not have time but would like to help out, please donate to help us continue offering these wonderful programs. For more information contact Kate Goldberg at 824-3459 or send donations to WMGA, PO Box 1248, Bethel.

REMEMBERING EARLON 'LEFTY' KENISTON

To the Editor:

The greater Bethel community has lost one of its prime human resources for recalling Albany, Maine's history, with the death last week of Earlon "Lefty" Keniston. He knew a great deal about the township in which he was born and where he spent some of his early years and a place that remained special to him throughout his life. For anyone wishing to learn more about Albany's history, he could always be counted upon to share his knowledge with those interested in the details of his birthplace. I am certain that we will need to know more some day and will badly miss his easy familiarity with the subject.

On a personal level, one of the highlights of my knowing "Lefty" was the time in the early 1990s that he led an "expedition" to the famed Albany Basins.

From a guidebook of the St. Lawrence and Atlantic Railroads published in 1853 in Portland, is found this description: "From Bethel, those interesting natural curiosities, the Albany Basins, can be reached with the greatest facility. These Basins deserve more than a passing notice. They are immense cavities worn by the action of water in the granite bed of a small stream in the town of Albany, ten miles from Bethel."

After detailing the route to reach the Basins, the guide continues: "The rocky ravine for the space of some two hundred yards down, is gouged into immense hollows or cisterns, which are choked up with chaotic masses of granite rock, quarried long years since from the precipitous bluffs on either hand, by the unwearying waters."

Further on is found this observation: "Some of the cavities are of enormous dimensions, the largest being nearly forty feet in depth by thirty in diameter. Two or three others are nearly as large, but all are more or less irregular in shape and much broken up." From here, there is speculation that there was once "a large and tumultuous stream, perhaps Pleasant River, in some remote age, [that] went plunging down through the ravine, creating whirlpools of sufficient power to keep the granite blocks, tumbled from the steepes on either hand, in a constant rotary motion, and so in a long series of years, produced the phenomena."

I had long seen references to the Basins so it was with great anticipation that a hardy group of us make the trek with "Lefty" to see them. They are on posted private land, but "Lefty" knew the owners and easily gained access for us.

It was a proud moment for all of us to learn firsthand about this significant tourist destination that was so popular in an earlier age. I will always be eternally grateful to "Lefty" for making this opportunity possible.

KEEP YOUR EYE OUT, DUDE

To the Editor:

On Feb. 23 somebody helped themselves to my son's Shaun White 2005 snowboard with brand new Burton bindings up at Sunday River.

Congratulations, man! You have a really cool board! You must look like something coming down the mountain, wind blowing through your hair, sun shining on your back! Do you feel a little sketchy, though, when you're carrying it around? Tell me, when you stole it that day did you look to and fro hoping no one would recognize it? You are a shining example!

Don't worry. We suited up the next day, thanks to Tyler at Sunday Sessions.

If you're still at Sunday River, dude, enjoy the ride. But continue to look to and fro.

SOPRANOS DINNER THANKS

To the Editor:

Last week, for four nights, a wonderful thing happened. A community came together in order to accomplish a worthy goal — football.

John Amann, a man who's only recently from around here, opened his heart, his home and his wallet to donate all of the above to help the young people of Telstar.

He believes, as a fair number of the rest of us do, that the high school experience without football just isn't quite giving our kids (if you'll excuse the pun) the "whole nine yards."

To that end, he donated all the food, all the time and all the energy it takes to prepare an Italian feast and turned in over $5,000 to the committee that is spearheading this effort.

It wasn't just a "spaghetti dinner." It was a five-course Italian feast that began with soup and five courses later ended with a wonderful dessert, all served by local volunteers.

These volunteers, some of whom had never been a waiter or waitress, came together to serve scores of salads, piles of pasta, endless entrees and tantalizing Tiramisu to four "sold out" performances entitled "Spend a Night with the Sopranos." If they weren't comfortable waiting on tables, they were in the kitchen cleaning the pots and pans and plates of the very satisfied diners. They not only served the diners, they also turned in every cent in tips to the cause as well. A wonderful effort by a wonderful group of "locals"! I'm consciously not naming names because I'm sure I'll forget somebody and that wouldn't do — besides — I'm no rat! I don't squeal on anybody. I'll say this much — Brad, you looked adorable with soap suds up to your elbows and Timmy — Who said a bull in a china shop can't wait on tables? A special thanks to all of you for what you're trying to accomplish for the kids.

If you missed the dinner and you believe that football should be part of the high school experience, you can still help the cause by pledging and/or donating any amount you can afford to the cause. They're still a bit short of their goal and you'll often find Brad Wight or one of the other volunteers freezing their buns off at the IGA (I guess I'll always call it the IGA) more than happy to take any donation because remember — quarters become dollars becomes hundreds, becomes thousands and before you know it you'll be hearing — "Hut one, Hut two."

To John Amann and the Gideon Hastings house a giant thank you, especially since you ain't really from around here — then again I've only been here for twenty years — I guess I ain't really from around here either!

THANKS FROM MOUNTAIN OPS

To the Editor:

I'd like to personally pass along a quick and sincere note of thanks to six very special people for their help during January and February.

First — on three successive weekends I phoned the Sunday River Inn in hopes that we may borrow their "big green bus," as we were having a series of quirky problems with a couple of vehicles in our transportation fleet. We move approximately 129,000 guests during the five busiest months of the ski and snowboard season, so every seat counts. Steve, Susan, and Eric never hesitated for a second on any of those occasions, and the green monster was a huge help to our cause. As usual, Steve and his team stepped up quietly to help another local team find success.

Second — Mary Cloutier approached me a while back about "feeding a few Mountain Ops guys some lunch," on behalf of the Sunday River Christian Ministry. She along with the Rev. Don Coverdale and Bill Herlihy have strong ties to the resort, and wanted to benefit the resort community in a different way. Little did I expect that they'd make a $500 donation on behalf of their organization, allowing us to buy lunch for 100 staff members. For those individuals, every little bit of help goes a very long way, and the help of the Sunday River Christian Ministry was very much appreciated.

The generosity of the six people mentioned above, and the people that they live, work and worship with, is just a small part of what makes Bethel a great place to live, work and play, and I thought it'd be nice to share my thanks to them with the entire community.

STONEHAM REPUBLICANS

To the Editor:

All registered Republicans are invited to caucus at 6:30 p.m. on March 6 at the Adams' residence. The main purpose of the biennial caucus is to allow registered voters who are enrolled in the Republican Party to elect delegates and alternates to the Republican State Convention. The Convention this year will be held at the Augusta Civic Center on May 5 and 6.

Other business of the caucus will include the organization of the local committee and the nomination of members to the Oxford County Republican Committee.

All local Republicans are encouraged to attend the caucus and take part in the political process in this very important election year.

HANOVER REPUBLICANS

To the Editor:

Paul Ramsey, chairman of the Hanover Town Committee, has announced that Hanover Republicans will caucus on March 9, at 7 p.m., at the Ramsey residence at 20 Howard Pond Road.

The purpose of the caucus is to elect delegates and alternates to the State Convention to be held at Augusta on May 5 and 6. The town committee will also organize for the upcoming election.

It is expected that several candidates for state and county office will attend the Hanover caucus. The following candidates have been invited: Leonard Greaney, state Senate; Harry Faulkner and Mark Egeberg, state Representative; Alan Carr and Chris Wainwright, sheriff; and Norm Ferguson, county treasurer.

All Hanover Republicans and interested citizens are invited to attend.

Celtics tickets to be raffled

BETHEL — The Telstar Football Boosters are currently raffling two pair of Boston Celtics tickets for the upcoming game on April 5 at 7 p.m. in Boston. The Celtics will play the Washington Wizards. Chances are $5 each or three for $10. To purchase chances, contact Tim and Terri O'Connor, 890-6115, Doug and Jodie Wilson, 824-3180, or Brad and Brenda Wight, 824-2288. The drawing date is March 21.

Woman injured in truck crash

NEWRY — Ashley Hautaniemi of Rumford was injured last Wednesday when her pickup truck rolled on Route 2, striking a telephone pole. Hautaniemi, 24, was ejected from the vehicle. She was passing cars near the Route 26 intersection when she lost control, according to police. Speed was believed to be a factor. Hautaniemi was LifeFlighted to Central Maine Medical Center, where she was initially listed in fair condition. As of Tuesday, Hautaniemi was no longer a patient at the hospital, according to a spokesman. Also responding to the accident scene were MedCare, Newry firefighters and Bethel police.

Truck available for nonprofits

BETHEL — A local real estate agency is offering the use of a new moving truck to community groups and local nonprofit organizations free of charge. RE/MAX In The Mountains recently purchased the truck as a service for their real estate clients, and is extending the same courtesy to groups around the Bethel area. Before the truck arrived the company mailed a letter to local organizations to let them know this service would be available, and they have already received responses from several groups interested in using the truck. Nonprofit organizations that are interested in using the new RE/MAX truck can contact the company or learn more on their website, www.re-maxinthemountains.com.

Old Pleasant Mt. photos on line

FRANCONIA, N.H. — A visit to www.mainememory.net will now transport the viewer into Maine's skiing heritage through a display of photographs of Pleasant Mountain in Bridgton during the 1950s and '60s. That ski area, now known as Shawnee Peak, was the pioneering development in what has become a major industry in the state. "The Ski Museum, and everyone interested in the history of skiing in Maine, owe a great debt to Scott Andrews, a Ski Museum volunteer who assembled the display," said John Christie, the Museum's current president. The 13 photos that make up the exhibit show the technical developments during the '50s and '60s in ski gear, lifts, and grooming. Metal, fiberglass, and plastic were replacing hickory and leather in the manufacture of skis and boots and safety release bindings were becoming widespread. "Rope tows were replaced by T-bars and chairlifts as the best way to get up the hill," says Andrews, "and tracked vehicles, snow cats, began to be used to groom snow surfaces." "The Museum's long-term goal is to have a facility where the public can see, touch, and learn about those things that have contributed to the rich heritage of the sport in Maine," said Christie, "but we feel strongly that Web-based access to those materials will play an integral role in educating people interested in the history of skiing in the state. Toward that end, the collaboration we are announcing is a major step toward that goal."

Bill allows shooting elk, red deer

CONCORD, N.H. — Gourmands who favor meat from elk and red deer would be able to shoot their own under a proposal that passed the New Hampshire House last week. The hotly debated bill passed 217-98. The bill would allow buyers to go onto a farm where red deer or elk are raised, select an animal to be shot and take the carcass home. Objections came from lawmakers who saw this an unfair form of hunting. But supporters argued this was a way to support an alternative form of livestock farming when the cost to take these animals to a federally approved slaughterhouse was prohibitive. "This is not a hunt by any stretch of the imagination. These are not wildlife. They are born, bred and raised on farms," said Merrimack Rep. Robert L'Heureux. "They are a meat animal." Supporters say farmers who raise red deer and elk are suffering in a market that no longer allows them to ship animals to other states because of concerns about contagious chronic wasting disease that kills deer. "It's a way for them to stay in business," Nashua Rep. David Smith argued. He said there are about 600 red deer and 300 elk being raised on 22 farms around the state. Potential buyers would make an appointment to view the animals for sale and could shoot them from 15 to 50 feet. Bartlett Rep. Gene Chandler who sponsored the bill, said buffalo and certain other specialty deer such as sikka deer and fallow deer can be taken this way and red deer and elk should be treated the same way. But hunting advocates didn't buy it. The state Fish and Game Department also opposed the measure. "There is a greater profit in selling trophy animals in these canned hunts," New Castle Rep. Dan Hughes said. "Shooting a deer or an elk in a pen is not fair. Real sportsmen and sportswomen participate in what we call fair chase hunting."

EVOLUTION OF AN ACTIVIST—At three months old (left) Todd Chretien was just along for the ride when his dad, Mike, took part in Viet Nam era protests, but now Todd is leading his own battle against the current war in Iraq, with allies like Cindy Sheehan (right), whose 24-year-old son, Casey, was killed in Iraq. Last month Sheehan, who had been urged to run in the Democratic primary against Sen. Dianne Feinstein, announced that she would not. She said at the time: "Todd Chretien is a personal friend of mine. He is a man of integrity and peace. I encourage all Californians to take a hard look at his campaign."

ily as an anti-war alternative, but he contends Feinstein is also out of step with California voters on several other issues.

A statement on Chretien's website (www.todd4senate.com) sums up his view of the incumbent:

"She voted to send our young people to Iraq. She voted for the USA PATRIOT Act which shreds the Bill of Rights. She voted for No Child Left Behind, which is tearing apart our public schools."

"She asked George Bush to invoke the Taft-Hartley law against the ILWU dockworkers union. She supports the death penalty, which exclusively kills people of color and the poor.

"She supports the mass incarceration of young people. She sponsors legislation that scapegoats immigrant workers. She gives George Bush standing ovations at his State of the Union speeches. She is a multi-millionaire who does not represent the majority of the people of California."

"If elected, I will represent the majority of people of California's opposition to George Bush, not collaborate with him."

Put up or shut up, O'Reilly
This is hardly the first time

Chretien has stepped up, even against long odds, to battle for a cause he believes in (sidebar below).

In November of last year, Chretien appeared on the hostile turf of Fox TV's "The O'Reilly Factor."

Following the show, The San Francisco Gate (a daily, online publication of The San Francisco Chronicle), published a guest editorial by Chretien, calling on Bill O'Reilly to come to San Francisco and rejoin the debate.

Chretien wrote: "Bill, either put your money where your mouth is and come to San Francisco for a fair debate. Or, as you so eloquently put it to guests on your show who get the better of you, shut up."

To date O'Reilly has not taken up the offer.

Chretien's mother believes she knows where her son gets a lot of his feistiness.

"I think he shares a lot of genes with his Aunt Sue," said Eileen Chretien. "She's never been afraid to speak up."

There will be a reception and fundraiser for Todd Chretien on Saturday, March 4, from noon to 2 p.m. at his parents' home, at 99 Lake Street in Auburn.

For more information, call 783-8272.

Chase

Chase lost control of the truck, but it stopped without injury to him or his wife. Police, with their weapons drawn, then surrounded the truck, and Chase stepped out with his hands raised.

He was taken to Stephens Memorial Hospital for evaluation, and then to the Oxford County jail.

On Monday, District Court Judge Ralph Tucker set bail for Chase at $50,000.

Chase's attorney, Maurice Porter of Norway, had asked for a lower bail, so that Chase would be able to leave jail and be evaluated at a Westbrook psychiatric facility.

But Assistant District Attorney Richard Beauchesne argued against a lower bail, contending that Chase would be a threat to public safety if released.

On Tuesday, Porter denied earlier press reports that Lisa Chase had been abducted at gunpoint.

"That's not in any police report," Porter told The Citizen, "and the district attorney doesn't disagree with me on that — we discussed it."

Lisa Chase is in the process of seeking a divorce, Porter said.

"It's unclear to me at this point why she did go with him. There's a number of possibilities, but it was not due to the presence of a gun."

Porter said he did believe that a gun had been involved in Thursday's events, but only after the police pursuit was already underway.

And, Chase, his attorney said, may have simply tried to ditch the gun, because he was already a convicted felon and prohibited from possessing firearms.

The presence of a gun in the possession of a prohibited person may lead to federal prosecutors taking over the case, Porter said.

"That's usually the guise they come in under," Porter said, and he noted that in federal courts "there are really no plea negotiations. There's basically mandatory sentences and mandatory minimums that the judge can't change."

Earlier problems

Chase has two previous felony convictions: for burglary in the 1980s and for unlawful sexual contact with a minor in 1999.

He was sentenced to 60 days in prison for the 1999 conviction.

At the time of that conviction, Chase had been serving as the animal control officer for Rumford, Mexico, Dix-field, Peru, Bethel and Greenwood.

He had been generally well regarded in his capacity as ACO, but nonetheless most of the towns let him go following the conviction.

But Bethel and Greenwood initially resisted firing Chase.

In November 1999 Cole said that after meeting with Chase and Bethel's Police Chief Darren Tripp, he had decided not to terminate Chase.

"It's an unsavory matter," Cole said at the time, "but I don't believe that given the job description and the nature of the job, and after talking with the individual and the police chief — who vouches for the guy — I think it's probably in the town's best interest, balancing everything out, to keep the guy on payroll and move forward."

Greenwood's town manager at the time, Carol Whitman, described Chase's work as "excellent," and she said the town selectmen had no plans to let him go.

But by January, Cole had reluctantly concluded that Chase did have to go.

"The overall circumstances surrounding this termination are indeed unfortunate," Cole said in a prepared statement. "Mr. Chase provided quality service to the Town of Bethel and was, by all accounts, the best Animal Control Officer in memory."

"Unfortunately, the combined effect of this matter has unacceptably diminished the credibility of the local government within the Bethel community," Cole said. "Hence, the termination action has become a necessity in order to regain a measure of credibility with townspeople."

In April, Greenwood followed suit.

Chase's attorney said "the loss of his occupation and the esteem he had in the community," played a role in Chase's subsequent mental difficulties.

But a far larger factor, Porter said, was Chase's loss of access to his children.

"Most of this has arisen because of the fact that he got off probation three years ago and was told by the judge that he would be able to see his children and live with his family, but the very next day the Department of Health and Human Services came in and yanked the kids, and we have spent the past three years trying to have him reintegrated into his family and they have not allowed that," Porter said. "That's what pushed him to the edge here."

ordinance proposal. The proposed municipal budget for this year is $876,937, up from $796,666. The increase is largely accounted for by equipment requests from the Fire Department and in fuel costs for the Highway Department, Woodbury said. All of the spending items on the warrant are being recommended by both the selectmen and Budget Committee. In all but two cases the recommendations from the two boards are for identical amounts. The differences come in the accounts for Tri-Town Ambulance and Rescue and for Tri-County Mental Health.

The selectmen recommend raising and appropriating $21,525 for the rescue service, while the Budget Committee recommends $20,664. Their respective recommendations for the mental health service are $1,300 and $1,200. Saturday's annual Town Meeting will be held at 10 a.m. in the Agnes Gray School.

Newry

handicapped, at an estimated $25,000. Selectmen are also requesting $4,000 to install a push-button door at the Town Office, to improve access for the handicapped.

Fire budget The Fire Department is requesting to take $65,000 from its Capital Reserve Account to purchase an emergency response unit that includes a pickup truck, an ATV, a trailer and a ski and wheel kit for the department's rescue sled. Also requested is $10,000 for a regular contribution to that account, as well as $27,470 toward the account to purchase fire equipment. The department is requesting $60,983 for routine operation and maintenance.

Other accounts Voters will be asked to establish a committee to recommend ordinances and ordinance changes needed to implement the town's revised Comprehensive Plan, which was accepted by the State Planning Office last year. A request of $8,000 is included to fund the committee's work. Most of that money would go toward hiring consultants, according to Loretta Powers, Newry's administrative assistant. To fund continuing work on erosion control activities in the Bear and Sunday River watersheds, voters will consider a request for $4,000. The request for the Sanitation Account totals $163,520, up about $7,000 from last year.

There will be no funding request this year for improvements at the Tri-Town Transfer Station, operated jointly by Bethel, Newry and Hanover. Newry had raised $15,000 in each of the last two years for its share of proposed improvements. But Bethel has not raised any money, so Newry selectmen decided to wait until the larger town makes a decision.

To offset taxes, selectmen are proposing to take $125,000 from undesignated surplus. Newry currently has about $1.1 million in surplus. Selectmen are also looking at a longer-term plan to spend down some of that surplus. The town's current mill rate is 8.3.

Ordinance changes Several proposed ordinance changes carry implications for developers and builders. One would require new subdivisions to either provide fire ponds or cisterns, or require the installation of sprinkler systems in buildings. New houses constructed for rental purposes, and older homes converted to rentals, would also be required to have sprinklers if the client tele is considered transient, or short-term.

A proposal by the Fire Department last year to require all new buildings to install sprinkler systems was defeated at a special Town Meeting. A proposed change to the Shoreland Zoning Ordinance would reduce the buffer around forested and freshwater wetlands of 10 acres or more, from 250 feet to 75 feet. The change would bring the town into line with state guidelines.

The 250-foot buffer would remain around wetlands designated as being of moderate or high value by the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife.

Other proposed ordinance changes include requiring a dumpster at all major construction sites; requiring exterior electrical shutoffs in new construction; clarifying the definition of a two-family dwelling; and changing to the building permit fees schedule.

A public hearing on the ordinance proposals took place Monday. The fire ordinance drew the most discussion, with some expressing concerns that it constituted over-regulation.

The Town Meeting starts at 7 p.m. at the Grange Hall. It will be preceded at 5:30 p.m. by a potluck supper.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte It's "Caucus" time again. The Democrats held their meeting on Sunday,

Feb. 26, at the Telstar High School. The Republican Caucus will be held Wednesday, March 8, 6:30 p.m. at the Upton Town Office. All Republicans are encouraged to attend and recommend their slate of officers.

According to Larry Nelson, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, the town of Upton's annual Town Meeting will be held March 9, at 7 p.m. There are several officers' positions that have to be filled.

Sunday, Feb. 26, an 80th Birthday Party was held for George Hamel at the Town and Country Restaurant in Gorham, N.H. Approximately 50 people attended and enjoyed a delicious meal. George was completely surprised. A birthday cake complete with George's picture was presented.

The kids are back in school. Nothing goes faster than a school vacation.

We had a call from Jerry Geiling Sr. regarding his recent bypass surgery. He sounds and feels like a new man. Jerry is a great fisherman and can hardly wait for "ice out" to wet a line.

The Olympics are over for the next four years. This was a great one with many surprises. Maine shared in the medals with Scott Wescott getting a gold in snowboarding. The closing ceremonies were spectacular. We will look forward to the next one in Vancouver, B.C.

Roger Lavalley is home feeling well and ready to go back to work.

Gene Wixom has a new little beagle, that is a very good rabbit dog. It has one failing, it loves to roll in moose droppings while on the hunt. There is nothing like the perfume of a dog in a closed car in the winter following the hunt and a good roll. It took Gene about a week to get Misty odor free.

The birds haven't changed much in a week. I did notice the crows and ravens were back in Colebrook. Walter and Liz Stanczyk have found three dead birds near their feeder in the past week. There is no sign of violence from "kitty" next door. I found one finch dead in the dooryard. There appeared to be a pretty good fight in the snow before the little one lost the battle.

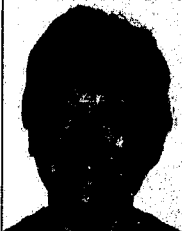

Sue Nelson continues to see two cardinals, a grackle and a starling. Pretty soon we shall see the birds returning, even though it looks like the tundra out there. The "Bird of the Week" is the little finch, who lost the battle.

Take caution and slow down on the road to Errol. The annual road "breakup" is quite bad. Save your springs for spring.

Craig Angevine is on the dean's list at Bates College. We neglected to mention this last week. We apologize and congratulate him.

West Bethel

by Lorrie Hoeh

Winter has returned, with frigid temperatures and piercing winds, but, alas, still scanty snow. Apparently there has been sufficient warmth, however, to inspire the chickadees to sing their spring "fee-bee" notes. The usual suspects continue to frequent the feeders, with blue jays and mourning doves in the majority. This morning I was able to negotiate the forest road without cleats on my shoes for the first time in a while. There was just enough snow blown over the ice to make it do-able.

Our Boston family, the Grifins, visited us for a couple of days during school vacation week. The boys, Owen and Robbie, along with cousin Chris Schwarz, had a good day of skiing at Mount Abram while Mom and Dad lounged around the lodge and got in some heavy reading. Our "grand-dog," Max, a min-pin, always runs straight to the sliding glass doors in the dining area so that he can get a bead on the red squirrels. The min-pin (no relation to Doberman pinschers) was bred as a ratter. I guess Max thinks the squirrels are a satisfactory substitute.

The Martin family of Sabattus was also here last week on Monday to visit their Flat Road camp and get in some sliding with the extended family. Gail e-mailed that their day turned out "some different" from what they had planned. They did need lunch and had a nice one at Rebel Restaurant, where all ten of them had a chance to get caught up on each other's lives, along with taking in nourishment.

recommend where, and how, to display a gate wheel from the Lower Dam.

The dam was disassembled last August, and Upton acquired one of four gate wheels.

"We'd like to permanently display it," said Rector. "It's a part of our history."

Two selectmen needed Several openings in municipal offices will be filled at the meeting.

On the Board of Selectmen, incumbent Larry Nelson is not seeking re-election. And current selectmen Richard Angevine will resign, leaving his seat open for one year.

A new School Committee member will be elected for a three-year term. Sue Nelson is not seeking re-election, Rector said. He said he has not heard that anyone has clearly stated they are running for any of the positions.

Rector will be up for re-election to the clerk, treasurer and tax collector positions.

School budget The school budget articles propose the town appropriate $78,817 and raise $63,365 for its share of education, and raise and appropriate $5,000 in additional local funds.

The expenditure budget is up about $3,000, according to Bruce Powell, SAD44's business manager.

Voters will also consider adopting a Site Review Plan for the Planning Board, as well as updates to the Flood Plain Ordinance.

The Town Meeting starts at 7 p.m., at the Schoolhouse Building.

Needless to say, there was plenty of ice, but zero snow, so sliding was out. The grandparents went shopping, and the parents and grandchildren went to the movies. Gail summed it up as a good day — "we got to try a new restaurant, the sibs got to spend quality time, the cousins got to hang out together, and maybe eventually we will get snow and some of us can go sliding."

Sunday was caucus day. I hope that whatever your political persuasion, you participated. As Tip O'Neill was fond of saying, "All politics is local." While it isn't an exciting and glamorous presidential election year, we will be electing people to Congress and to the state legislature. It all begins here, folks. So if you don't like what's happening in the state and the nation, do something about it — vote. If you're happy with what's happening and want to keep it that way, do something about it — vote.

It was kind of fun watching the Olympics, but I can't help feeling that the big networks just don't get it. Everything is geared to prime time and multiple commercials. Why can't at least one American network just show the games as they happen, the way Canadian tv does? It's so annoying when one just gets involved with a sport — say, ski-jumping — and then they switch to curling or luge or a five-minute commercial break. I stayed up until nearly midnight one night to see the finals of women's figure skating because the network was too greedy for the commercial money to show it earlier in the day. If I ran the zoo . . .

The Andover Service Circle has informed me that the Circle plans a fundraising buffet lunch at Andover Town Hall on March 18, the day of Andover's Town Meeting. The lunch will be held on the first floor of the Town Hall from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., at a cost of $4 per person. The Circle is suggesting that you bring a hardy appetite, because the plans are calling for a spread of homemade soups, chilies, chowders, stews, breads, muffins and desserts.

Last week I had the names of students from Andover who made the honor roll for the second quarter at Telstar. Congratulations to sophomore Brianne Bailey, who was inadvertently left off the list.

For all of you skating enthusiasts, there is a skating rink behind the Fire Station, courtesy of Butch Glover, who has been working on it in his spare time. The cold snap we have had is helping it out.

Linda Farwell, and her children, Quinn and Gabrielle, visited with their grandmother, Eda Perkins, on Thursday of last week. They brought over lunch and a birthday cake to celebrate Eda's birthday.

Speaking of birthdays, if you see Betty Moore on Thursday, March 2 (today), wish her a happy 80th birthday (from her daughters Sandra, Shirley and Sharon, and her sister, Beatrice).

Scott Owings of Pleasant Street, is going to be a write-in candidate for School Board member.

Elementary School parents don't forget the family dance tomorrow night, sponsored by the fifth-grade class.

A lot of people from town enjoyed the annual Fishing Derby held at Roxbury Pond last Saturday. The weather was very cold but there was no wind. The Lions Club had their refreshment wagon there, for people to get a warm bite to eat. Proceeds from the derby help people in the local community to receive eye care.

Sunday, March 5, is a community ski day at Sunday River.

Have a nice weekend.

News from the Town Office: The Board of Selectmen meet on the first and third Monday of each month. The agenda is posted at the Town Office. If you need more information about these meetings, you may call the office at 824-3123.

Don't forget — the annual Town Meeting will take place on Monday, March 6, at 7 p.m. at the Bear River Grange Hall. A 5:30 p.m. potluck supper will precede the meeting.

When I stopped in at the Town Office last week, Steve Wight, who recently retired, was there doing some research.

The WVSC's monthly meeting will be held this Sunday, March 5, at the town Office at 7 p.m.

Efforts of the Gardner Roberts Memorial Library fundraiser took a step ahead last week when the organization received word from the Internal Revenue Service that they had been awarded 501 (C) (3) status as a public charity starting in 1901.

Most of the work to reach that goal was accomplished by Library Trustee Maura Rodway. The designation will allow donations to the library to be tax deductible. For several years the library officials and others have worked on fundraisers to move the library building from its present site on the Howard Pond Road to a more convenient location near the Hanover Town Office on Ferry Road.

LAYING THE GROUNDWORK FOR SAFE ROUTES TO SCHOOL, AWAY FROM 18-WHEELERS—The Bethel Area Trails Committee has been awarded a $1,000 grant from the NewPage Inc. health and safety program to use toward the committee's Safe Routes to School project. The project seeks to secure easements and landowner agreements to build a non-motorized trail between Telstar and Davis Park. The NewPage funds will be used to pay expenses for a landowner contact manager to implement route selection and landowner negotiation along the one-mile corridor. The grant will also cover mapping and printing costs and part of the professional fees required to apply for a federal Safe Routes to School grant. Pictured here at Davis Park, in the area where the trail would start, are Steve Wight, a member of NewPage's Community Action Committee, and Telstar staff member Barb Russell, the point person for the Trails Committee on the project. The committee hopes also to extend the trail to Crescent Park School by providing sidewalks on Chapman and Mason streets. (Photo: A. Aloisio)

To date the largest fundraiser was accomplished by Barb and Irv Robinson. They bicycled across America starting last May at Bar Harbor and ending at the Pacific Ocean in Washington state.

According to the Oxford County Regional Solid Waste Corporation, due to market changes only aluminum cans can be accepted for recycling. That decision affects the way we recycle at the Tri-Town Solid Waste and Recycle Center in Bethel. There is a container for aluminum cans only. Other light aluminum products such as pie plates and foil need to be placed in the trash containers. Other recycle products, including tin cans, continue as before.

The Hanover Select Board met on Tuesday, Feb. 21, for their monthly meeting. Discussed were road situations, review of the minutes from the Planning Board meeting, and building maintenance of town-owned buildings. The board decided to send Deputy Clerk Kelly Crockett to a grant-formulating meeting during March.

Rumford Fire Department recently responded to the Chamberlain Resort due to an issue with the sprinkler system that occurred following a power failure.

A traffic accident near the Ellis River Bridge on Route 2 tied up traffic for a while last Friday.

Now that we are into March there may be some nice warm spring weather. We probably may have some storms also, but let's not count on them being snow.

Last week was school vacation for the SAD44 region.

Hopefully, it was an enjoyable vacation for the students, teachers and their families.

As most people know, I work for SAD44 Adult and Community Education. We got our spring brochure off to the printer at the beginning of vacation week and out into the mail at the end of the week. By now, most residents of SAD44 and Region 9 should have received them. SAD44 produced the brochure in conjunction with Region 9 for the spring to offer a wide variety of very interesting offerings to both regions. The cover photo is a beautiful picture of a fawn taken from the collection of photographer Dirk MacKnight of Andover. He has a knack for being in the right place at the right time to take beautiful photographs.

I received an e-mail from Bruna Piccin to let me know how Jack Pucak is doing. He was at Maine Medical in Portland this past week. He had bone graft surgery on his femur that was crushed in the accident. Get well wishes to Jack. Spring will be upon us very soon.

We have a black and white cat that stops by our birdfeeder to try to catch an easy meal. The birds just sort of look at it, and since there is not a good place for the cat to hide, hunting is not very gratifying. The other day, we looked out and the cat was on the porch railing, which is one of the places that the birds land to pick up their seeds. We were thinking that this was not the way to go about bird hunting, when we realized that the cat was looking into the window and watching the television. He got down after a few minutes, either because he didn't like the show that was on or realized that the birds were not buying his disguise.

Our son, Chris Chapman, has called to let us know that he likes his new job in St. Cloud, Minn., in spite of the below-zero weather. Chris recently celebrated a birthday, so Happy Birthday wishes to him. Thanks to Ernest Angvine for his phone call inquiring about where Chris is now located.

When my brother, Steve McLain, and his faithful companion, Laney, stopped by later that day, the cat was on the porch again. When Laney spotted the cat, she decided to strongly suggest to it that bird hunting was not allowed. The cat headed for the Town Hall with Laney in pursuit.

The Planning Board

The Planning Board meeting scheduled for March 2 has been cancelled. Individuals requiring support from the board should contact Jack Pucak at 836-2729 to make other arrangements.

Town Office

The officers of the town are finishing up the material needed to be included in the annual Town Report for Town Meeting, on March 25 at 7 p.m. at the Town Hall. Residents who have not registered to vote yet can do so before the meeting. The registrar of voters will be available at 6:30 p.m.

Gilead Historical Society

The next meeting of the GHS will be on March 25 at the Town Hall at 1 p.m. There will be a discussion of the annual event to be held on June 24. Members should come with ideas to present and a willingness to participate in the event to make it a great day for everyone.

This week's little bit of Gilead history comes from "The Smile of Providence, A History of Gilead, Maine" by Howard Reiche, Jr. and Hugh G. Chapman. There is a copy of a poster in the Town Hall and in the book that advertises an event on Aug. 28, 1884 for General Skating.

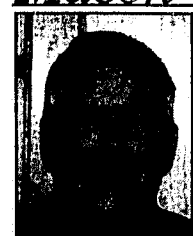

"After the Gilead Town Hall was built in 1883, it was used for many social functions. In 1884, it was rented to George Robertson and advertised as the Gilead Skating Rink. On opening night, the Bethel band was present and no pains will be spared to make the evening enjoyable. There must have been other rinks around because skate rental was 15 cents. However, if you brought your own roller skates, admission was 10 cents.

"Apparently, there were weekly dances in Gilead. This is based on the special train, which ran from Hastings to Gilead to carry parties to the dances."

Mason

by Richard Grover

I was talking with Joe Taylor at our last Legion meeting, when he told me of an experience he had recently with a snowmobile.

He said he was checking wood duck boxes on a pond for the Forest Service recently, traveling on the ice via snowmobile.

As he left one box, not traveling very fast, the machine spun around without warning, dumping him roughly on the ice as it rolled. He ended up with several bruises and a bruised ego, I think.

In talking with a snowmobile rep in Gorham, N.H., following that incident he found out it isn't advisable to be riding on the ice with (I think it was carbide) front runner guides unless you have a studied drive track.

Joe is pursuing getting the Forest Service to provide studied tracks for their snowmobiles before he ventures on the ice again.

I had a similar experience with my snowmobile last week.

After unhitching a sled with my chainsaws and wood-splitting tools, I rode the machine along a gentle slope at "the farm" on a loop to warm up the machine and get it headed back toward home by the woodpile. I knew it was icy in spots where kids had been sledding, but the ice was covered in a dusting of snow. Although I was only going 10 or 15 mph, suddenly the rear end of the machine swung around on the downhill slope and dumped me as it laid over on its side.

Unhurt, I scrambled up and righted the snowmobile, its engine still idling. I was able to get the machine moving after backing downhill to some snow; since then, I've determined to keep the sled in the barn until we get some more snow. A word to the wise; if you're riding a sled on ice without studs, beware.

Just one more reference to our recent cruise. As we perused the shops at Costa Maya, Mexico, vendors kept stepping out of their shops, each venter trying to coax us into his/her shop.

At one place, a jewelry vendor took Mona's arm and started putting little slender silver-looking bracelets on her wrist. "Look, Senora. Only one dollar. Cheaper than Wal-Mart!" Somehow, Mona resisted.

On Sunday morning last week, as we were getting ready for church, Mona said, "Rich. Look down in the pasture. There's a moose! Where's Snuffy?" Sure, enough. A large moose was walking across the pasture. Snuffy stood on the front lawn, ears erect, watching.

Before long, he couldn't stand it any longer. He trotted across the road and started barking. The moose casually jumped a fence and turned to face Snuffy, the fence between them.

There they stood, face to face for several minutes. Every now and then the moose would faint toward Snuffy, who whirled and ran away a few yards. Then, back to their prior positions. Finally, the moose tired of the stand-off and trotted into the woods. Snuffy followed about halfway across the pasture and then trotted back to the house.

My kids gave both of us gift certificates to Barnes & Noble bookstores as Christmas gifts. A couple weeks ago we cashed them in, having a great time browsing. I found a book I'm really enjoying. It's called, "Duh! The Dumb History of the Human Race." It's filled with short vignettes describing dumb things people have done over the centuries. Many of them would win Darwin Awards.

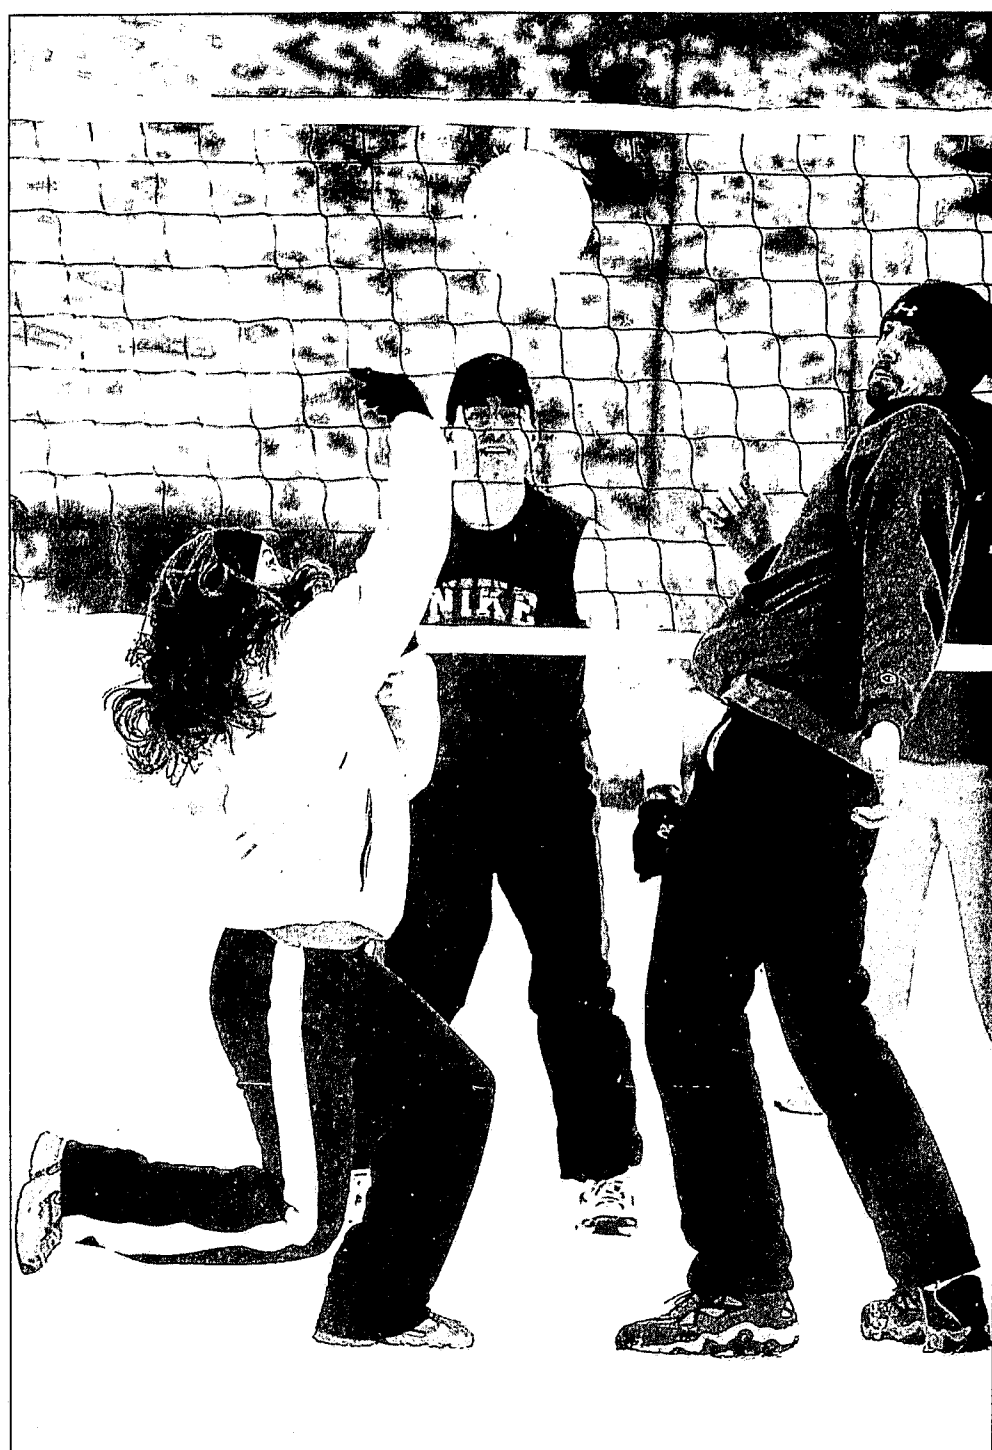

One of my favorites is the story of an Arizona hunter who accidentally shot himself in the leg. He decided to signal for help by firing a signal shot. Trouble was, he shot himself in the other leg with the signal!

Real winter has arrived with 0 degrees weather in early a.m. The thermometer climbed only into the teens during the day. Our walking group makes out OK if the wind does not blow too hard. The sun is higher in the sky so does not shine as brightly in our eyes as it has been while going down Pioneer Street. The days are longer. The morning sun rises earlier and sets later. We have an extra hour of daylight.

On Sunday, March 5, Cynthia Reedy will speak at the West Paris Universalist Church. The service starts at 9 a.m. followed with a coffee hour. Jim Burke is organist. All are welcome.

Beryl Bonney attended a Birthday Party in South Paris for her cousin, Dorene Marrill. No one is telling which birthday this was. We wish you a Happy Birthday, Dorene!

Shrimp were plentiful again this weekend, so I enjoyed a few more delicious pounds at an even lower price. They are so good dipped in butter.

The past week has been school spring vacation time. The grandchildren have been around most of the time with their father, Kenneth Lamb. There has been no ice to skate and little snow to slide.

Joe and Peg Perham have returned after a two-and-a-half week trip to Florida to visit family. They say it has been colder than usual there but still is warmer than they left behind at home.

All is well with Buffy. He has to be combed and brushed every day but is getting matted, for he does not groom himself as he used to. He may have to go to the vet's again and be shaved when warm weather comes.

or worse, and it won't go away as quickly as the flu normally would. With spring coming, it would be a shame to be ill when warm weather arrives.

This Sunday is the first Sunday of the month. That means that this Sunday at church services communion will be observed. Remember: services start at 9:30 a.m.

Best wishes for a happy and safe (and healthy) week. God Bless and Keep.

Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday School at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., choir practice at 5 p.m. and evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday evening at 6:30 is prayer meeting, and Thursday morning at 9 is ladies bible and prayer time. Looking ahead: a Mission Conference will be held March 22 to 26.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet March 2 at Ledgeview Living Center for a meeting, dinner and program by someone from the Forest Department. The meeting starts at 11 a.m.

On Saturday, March 4, Franklin Grange 124 will hold a day meeting at 10 a.m. Bill Rice presented a very good Cabin Fever Concert on Saturday night for benefit of the Grange. Thanks, Bill.

On Friday, March 3, the Town Office will not open until 10 a.m.

On Thursday, March 9, at the Whitman Memorial Library at 10 a.m. D.C. Scherer, a native Mississippian who now lives in Greenwood, will be guest speaker. Ms. Scherer has just finished her first children's book, "The Cat with the Question Mark Tail." Come welcome her to Maine and learn about her new career in writing. No admission is charged and light refreshments will be served.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Carolyn Brown.

The Historical Museum's collections are fine now with furniture, glass, china, quilts, costumes, tins, tools, small collectables and books. They are a credit to the town and area. It has a fine collection of memorabilia. Why don't you join and participate in the success. They really need new members to insure the society's future.

Curator Larry Billings got a good biography of Abraham Lincoln. The Historical Society has a large bust of Lincoln that Larry gave them. The society meets the second Saturday of each month at 7 p.m. The March meeting will be at the Town Annex. President Olive Risko has the program for March. The museum has the great clothespin sign at the back of the parking lot. It is a real artifact from Woodstock's mill-working past. The society preserves the past.

Scherer, a native Mississippian who lives in Greenwood, will be guest speaker at the Woodstock Memorial Library on March 9 at 10 a.m. Ms. Scherer has just written a children's book, "The Cat with the Question Mark Tail." Welcome her to Maine and learn about her new career in writing. The program is open to the public. There is no charge. Light refreshments will be served.

What a game Telstar girls had. I wish I could have seen it. Bailey Davis got 17 points and was the high scorer in the game. Her sister, Chea, also did a great job along with all the players. It was a shame they came so close and lost. I would have loved to see them on TV. Congrats all.

Happy Birthday to all those celebrating in March. They are: Mary Ellen Andrews, Desman Cox, Derek Leonard, Jim Miclon, Michael Scot Moore, Patty Poland, Darcy Robertson, Leslie Thurlow, Patty Thurlow, Mark Thurlow, Harold Wilbur. A special birthday wish to my granddaughter, Jessie Hart.

Anniversaries being celebrated this March are: Phelps and Joan Poland, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wilday, and Richard and Andrew Wing.

Hi readers. On Feb. 22, I received a dozen red roses from Albert. This was for our 56th anniversary. We are so lucky! In the evening Dale and Kitty Nelson and Albert, Jr. and Cathy Beaudoin gave us a lobster dinner party, which was real nice. Thanks, kids. We even got a phone call from California from Matthew. At the party were Albert Jr., Cathy Beaudoin, Troy Nelson, Dale and Kitty and Eric Nelson and Erin Specht. Nine attended in all.

by Sheila Dyke

Hello and greetings from Albany Township. I have been so slack in the column, and I'm sorry. Apparently, there was some hubbub about a letter to the editor, which I missed, as well as something down at the church on Saturday.

That flu-thing turned into pneumonia and bronchitis for Dana; the kids and I seem to be fending it off pretty well, mostly dealing with more cold symptoms. If you've had the "flu" for more than a week, go to your doctor or the hospital. It may be a bacterial infection came from Belmont, Mass., to visit us a few days, and on Monday she and I got a day of shopping and lunch. Albert went to the doctor's on Tuesday and he did get a good report, although he is still on the oxygen.

Do not forget March 4 (the first Saturday in March) is the Stoneham Town Meeting. Hope to see you all there. If you live in Stoneham they need you at the meeting. Come and show that you care what goes on in Stoneham.

Have you been watching the Olympics? I like to watch the skating. I used to like to skate back in high school days. They make it look so easy and graceful and have such pretty outfits.

The Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19 met at the home of Joyce Gouin on Feb. 22 with six members present.

Much business was taken care of. Installation of officers was done at this time.

The next meeting will be on March 22 at the home of Marilyn Jones at Apt. 7, 7 Main Street, Norway.

I just heard recently that Lois Niemi is at the Maine Medical Center in Portland and had to have an operation on her leg. Hope you are better now, Lois, and will soon be home.

Albert had a nice card from his cousin, Bertha Samson, the other day. We do not get together with family like we used to. It is good to keep in touch.

Stoneham Republicans are to meet on Monday, March 6 at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Becky Adams for the Caucus. Please all registered Republicans be there.

We need you.

From the West Paris Troopettes

On Sunday, Feb. 12, the West Paris Troopettes hosted a welcome home party for National Guardsman Walter Inman, Jr., who recently returned home from Iraq.

Emcee Doreen Wilbur introduced four of the West Paris six who returned last March:

Travis Coffman, Vernon Inman, Randy Jones, and JJ Stevens.

Pastor Bruce Tyner offered a prayer followed by a Boy Scout presentation of the Flag. The National Anthem was sung by all.

Selectman Wayne Theofrastou welcomed Walter and handed Vernon Inman, who served in Iraq 2004-05, the town's certificate of appreciation to be presented to his brother. Bertha DeHaas read an original poem. Greg Inman presented a special gift to Walter from Joe and Peg Perham who were out of state. Dell Wilson, commander of the West Paris American Legion, gave Walter a gift from the Troopettes who had been sending him monthly morale-boosting boxes of goodies. Walter himself ended the festivities with an original laptop slide show of his time in Iraq.

Over 60 people attended to honor Walter and all enjoyed the program and food: finger rolls, crackers, cheese, veggies, chips, dips, coffee, and punch.

WestParisstillhasoneyoung man, Richard Smith, serving in Iraq. The Troopettes plan to celebrate his homecoming in late April.

From the Charlotte Hobbs Memorial Library

Valentine's Day 2006 was an historical day at the Hobbs Library. The library's collection grew 400 percent by joining Minerva. Staff and many volunteers prepared for this day for the last year and a half.

What is Minerva? Minerva is a consortium of over 85 Maine libraries, together creating a "library without walls."

The shared online catalog includes over six million items (books, DVDs, audio books, and magazines) that you can search by author, title, subject, keyword, and material type. You can access the Minerva catalog through the library's website: www.hobbslibrary.org.

Patrons are now able to view their library records and request or renew materials from the comfort of their own home

DBA: Wendy's Music & Collectibles

Local residents and businesses who wish to sell items on eBay can now turn the entire process of listing, selling and collecting over to a new service in Bethel, Wendy's Music & Collectibles. Wendy Dutcher will handle all the work involved in creating listings, managing the bids received, shipping and collecting payment from her location at 14C Main Street. She then sends a check to the original owner of the items sold, less a commission fee. Customers can make arrangements with her by phone at 462-4817 or wld@megalink.net with their new bar-coded library card.

You can independently request materials from the entire Minerva catalog and they will be delivered directly to the library through a statewide delivery service.

From Whitman Memorial Library

Our monthly programs are starting up again and on March 9, at 10 a.m. we will be welcoming D.C. Scherer, author of "The Cat With the Question Mark Tail." Ms. Scherer has begun a new career in writing and will talk to us about all that writing and publishing involves. Come and join us. There is no charge and light refreshments will be served.

At any of the times you visit the library, take time to go down to the basement and see how nice that looks. We now have additional usable space. We are also using the basement to have an ongoing book sale. We are not setting a specific price for your good buys, but are accepting donations. Whenever the library is open you can check out the book sale.

We have changed our display of art work and are currently showing some of Jane Hathaway's paintings. This will be available for about two months. Well worth coming in to see — along with Althea Hathaway's hanging quilt. Thank you to both ladies.

In addition to books purchased by our librarian, we also have another donation from Sandy Whitman, which we appreciate very much. So we do have a lot of new books to make a trip to the library very worthwhile!

We have a Nora Roberts trilogy of books on tape: "Black Rose," "Red Lily," and "Blue Dahlia," as well as John Steinbeck's "The Grapes of Wrath," and John Grisham's "The Painted House."

Items for children include: "Art for Children," "Simple Science Fun," "Dear America, A Picture of Freedom-The Diary of Clotie, a Slave Girl," and a "Presidents' Fandex," (lots of information in a brief form about the presidents).

We have three books by Dr. Phil McGraw: "The Ultimate Weight Solution Food Guide," "Relationship Rescue," and "Self Matters." "The Cat Who Moved a Mountain," "The Cat Who Blew the Whistle," and "The Cat Who Said Cheese" are by Lillian Jackson Braun. We have "Leadership," by Rudolph Giuliani; "Mary Chestnut's Civil War," C. Van Woodward, editor; "The Life of a Lab," Denver Bryan; "Complete Guide to Photography," John Hedgecoe; "Take China — The Last of the China Marines," Harold Stephens; "Great Cat Tales," Lesley O'Mara; "Enemy Women," Paulette Jiles; "Georgia - Duchess of Devonshire," Amanda Foreman; "The Lady and the Unicorn," Tracy Chevalier; "Every Sunday," Peter Pezzelli; "Maybe a Miracle," Brian St. Rause; "The Moor," Laurie King; "S is for Silence," Sue Grafton; "Mary Mary," James Patterson; "The Preacher's Daughter," Beverly Luise; "The Storekeeper's Daughter," Wanda Brunstetter; "My Sister's Keeper," Jodi Picoult; "Lars and the Gray Mare," Kathleen Duey; "Phantom Stallion," Terri Farley.

We are always willing to purchase what our patrons are interested in.

Please contact the librarian if you have any particular books or authors you would like to see in our library. Come and visit us soon.

From the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

Chilly winter weather did not deter visitors at the 32nd annual Heritage Day held this year on Feb. 18 at Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center. At the historic Dr. Moses Mason House (1813), fresh, warm, homemade Indian pudding was served from the hearth of the winter kitchen during the special museum tours offered during the afternoon.

Thanks go to guides Allan Marcotte and Amy Davis, to Annie Hastings for serving the pudding, and to Grace McKivergan, Allan Marcotte and Stan Howe for baking the pudding.

Visitors toured the exhibits ("Molly Ockett and her World," "Bethel: A Historic Town," and "Newry 200") at the 1821 O'Neil Robinson House. Traditional craft demonstrations and exhibits were offered by Grace McKivergan of Rumford (knitting), Jane Peterson of Rumford (weaving), Robin Henne of Shelburne, N.H. (spinning), and Hildy Danforth, Shelburne, N.H. (spinning).

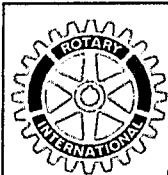

Historical videos continued throughout the afternoon and a local history book fair table was of considerable interest. Jean Owen volunteered in the Museum Shop, which offered several new items included in this year's offerings. Much appreciation is expressed to all who helped make this winter event a success.

Civil War Course
"Maine in the Civil War" will be the 2006 Winter/Spring course at the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center beginning on Thursday, March 16, in the Dr. Moses Mason House Meeting Room, beginning at 7:30 p.m. There will be three other sessions (March 30, April 13 and 27) plus a tour of Civil War veteran resting places in Bethel cemeteries led by Stanley R. Howe, executive director of the Bethel Historical Society. Howe will also conduct the course sessions.

A longtime student of the Civil War, he has published an essay on Bethel during the Civil War and reviews books regularly on Civil War topics for Maine History, the quarterly of the Maine Historical Society. The course fee for nonmembers will be $20 and $15 for members. The text for the course will be "A Distant War Comes Home: Maine in the Civil War Era." The book is regularly $14.95 plus tax in the shop, but will be offered to course participants for $10 (including tax).

The course is designed to emphasize little-known aspects of this tragic war's effect on Maine and the state's contribution to it. For its population, Maine enlisted more men per capita than any other state. However, one Maine community refused to send any men to fight. Abolitionist sentiment was high in Maine. The first casualty of the war was a man born in Norway. A Maine doctor from West Paris was in the audience when Lincoln was assassinated. Maine soldiers survived Confederate prisons and used their woodman's skills to save the disastrous Red River Campaign. These and many other facets of Maine's role in the war will be explored during the course.

The course is open to all interested persons. Please call the society office at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910 to register. One can also register online by sending an e-mail to info@bethelhistorical.org.

Over 1,350 members strong, the Bethel Historical Society, founded in 1966, is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive full-time historical agency, dedicated to collecting, preserving, and interpreting the regional past for present and future generations. For forty years, the society's activities have included lectures, exhibits, special events, heritage festivals, workshops, conferences, school and educational programs, and publications. In 1974, the society acquired the former Broad Street residence of Dr. Moses Mason, which now contains a period house museum, exhibit hall and research library. In 1999, the society opened the O'Neil Robinson House (next door at 10 Broad Street) to the public for an expanded exhibit program, museum shop space, and administrative offices. Through the years, the society's achievements have been recognized by a number of state and national organizations.

Further information about the society and its activities may be obtained by calling 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910, or by sending an e-mail to info@bethelhistorical.org. Additional information can also be obtained by checking the society's website at www.bethelhistorical.org. The society's mailing address is P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217-0012.

From the Sunday River Christian Ministry

Special Service March 12
The Sunday River Christian Ministry will conduct a special service in the River House at the Upper Room at Sunday River on Sunday, March 12, at 10:30 a.m.

Featured musical artist and speaker will be Mark Finks, leader of the State Street Traditional Jazz Band of Portland. Although Mark is a native of Maine, he has played and recorded with the veteran musicians from New Orleans, La., since he was a young man.

A special emphasis of this musical presentation and message will be the efforts of Habitat for Humanity and Gulf Coast Relief for Hurricane Katrina Victims for which a special offering will be taken.

"New Orleans in many ways is literally the heart and soul of our American musical culture," said Finks. "Most of our nation's music had its beginnings in New Orleans and has deeply affected the entire world."

In addition to playing New Orleans music with the State Street Traditional Jazz Band here in northern New England, Finks plays a series as the featured banjo player and singer with Doreen's Jazz New Orleans at the Deertrees Theater in Harrison and oth-

Rwanda and Katrina
Great Happenings since our last appearance in this column two weeks ago! Not only has Rev. Darius Twagirayesu of Rwanda met with us concerning the plight of the orphans and widows of the 1994 horrific genocide that killed one million people in 90 days, but also Bruce Libby, a finish carpenter in our congregation, has been called to accompany Darius on his current trip back to Rwanda.

Both men are now clearing 50 acres outside Kigali and laying the foundations for a small orphanage/clinic/school/training center. Since $1 USD equals $541 Rwandan francs, our donations will enable many positive changes. Prayers, cheer support, and gifts from the Mexico First Baptist Church, the Congregational Church of Mexico, and our Sunday River Christian Ministry accompany these two compassionate men who haven't forgotten the genocide and are committed to "make the world a better place" with their efforts.

Stay tuned here as Darius and Bruce will return with great stories in a few weeks.

Meanwhile, our congregation is eagerly awaiting the return of Mark Finks, the director of State Street Traditional Jazz Band that filled the hearts of hundreds of folks with masterfully rendered joy at each New Year's Bethel for the last six years. Mark is not only an accomplished banjo player who has played with jazz legends but also a street evangelist, who brings a unique perspective to the New Orleans scene. He will share his ministry with all on Sunday, March 12, 10:30 a.m. in the "Upper Room" of the River House in the South Ridge area. The rest of March will be focused on outreach to the still suffering Katrina/Gulf Coast victims. The Baptist Relief Fund and Habitat for Humanity will be our conduits for sharing our tithes and talents. We welcome any folks who have been there and seen the devastation with their own eyes.

We may be small in numbers, but we're big in heart! And not just for skiers/riders! Come join us and take away smiles, sharing of caring and songs of joy.

From U.M. Cooperative Extension

One Book One Community
The 2006 One Book One Community programs invite the public to a presentation on "Rethinking Your Backyard" by Barbara Murphy to be held at the University of Maine Cooperative Extension office on Monday, March 6, at 7 p.m. Murphy is the Extension educator working with agriculture and gardening programs. Her presentation will address issues of landscaping and wildlife habitat, and she will ask the question: "Can you have a beautiful landscape without killing yourself and other living things?" Come and learn some simple steps you can take to increase the wildlife value of your yard while reducing the work required.

This program is associated with the One Book One Community reading of "Suburban Safari: A Year on the Lawn" by Maine author Hannah Holmes. Holmes takes a close look at her backyard in South Portland to observe the activity of birds, insects, animals, trees, and grass. As she observes she also consults books and experts to find out more about what she sees. As she learns she describes this to the reader who also learns about the active plant and animal life in a backyard.

The University of Maine Cooperative Extension Office is located at 9 Olson Road in South Paris. For directions go to the website www.umext.maine.edu/counties/oxford.htm.

The public is welcome and for further information call the Extension Office at 743-6329.

'Parenting Through Separation and Divorce'

"Parenting Through Separation and Divorce" is the topic of a workshop series being offered by the University of Maine Cooperative Extension in Oxford County.

"Kids are typically hit the hardest when couples separate," explains Wendy Legg Pollock, U.M. Extension educator and leader of the workshop. "The people they probably love the most have decided that they can no longer live together. Regardless of age — toddlers to teens — children struggle with a lot of feelings such as guilt, fear, anger and sadness, and they typically feel caught in the middle between their parents." Pollock continues, "This workshop series will help parents better understand the effects of separation or divorce on themselves and their children, and to support their kids during this time of big changes in their lives. Little things that parents do — or don't do — can make a big difference in how children adjust to the separation."

"Parenting Through Separation and Divorce" will focus on: understanding the effects of separation/divorce; helping children — what they need and what they don't need; moving from conflict to cooperation; and communicating effectively — getting through the anger, jealousy and revenge.

The four-part series will be held on Wednesday evenings, March 15, 22, 29, and April 5 from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Extension office on 9 Olson Road, South Paris. There is no cost to participate, but pre-registration is required. Call the Extension office at (800) 287-1482 or 743-6329 to register by March 10. Space is limited.

It's always wise to call ahead

Listings in The Citizen's weekly Community Calendar are compiled from a wide variety of sources. While we do our utmost to ensure the reliability of the information presented here, we recognize that when dealing with such a large volume of material, some inaccuracies will occasionally creep in. And in other cases, a sponsoring organization's plans may change between the time The Citizen is printed and the event is held. Accordingly, we strongly urge our readers to call ahead to verify the details of any event they plan to attend. Doing so will greatly reduce the chance of disappointment or needless inconvenience.

I WANT THAT ONE!
Good curb appeal is a major plus when we market a home. A little bit of work on the front of your home can pay big dividends.
When a potential buyer pulls up in front of your house, their first impression is absolutely crucial. Sometimes buyers won't even look at a home with drooping shutters, sagging gutters, peeling paint and a bumper crop of dandelions in the front yard. Or they might go in expecting to find a "fixer-upper" that could be purchased at a bargain price. If a house looks neat and cared for from the street, the initial good impression will carry over as the buyers step inside.
It is not necessary to hire a professional landscaper, but listen to your Realtor's suggestions when you list your home. Local nurseries can help you select blooming plants that will thrive in your area. Keep the lawn mowed, and regardless of the season, take care of exterior maintenance. Strong curb appeal will help your home sell more quickly and for top dollar.

Another Happy Customer!

"When you live out of state and you hire a builder to construct a house hundreds of miles away trust has got to be a huge factor. We hired Francis Dumont of Maine Custom Builders and quite frankly never had to worry. The construction was completed on time without issues and the quality was above expectations." "It is seldom that when you deal with a builder that they actually stand by their work even after the warranty period is over. Francis Dumont of Maine Custom Builders is one of those rare builders!"

LAND

A limited number of house lots at the Sunday River Golf Club in the Mahoosuc Glen development are still available. These spectacular homesites offer sweeping vistas over the course and out into the Sunday River valley. This is a unique opportunity to build a true four-season vacation home with immediate access to some of the best skiing and golf in New England. To arrange a showing or get more information before the few remaining lots are sold, contact us as soon as possible at 207-824-5051 or srrealty@sundayriver.com, or stop by our office. Priced from $195,000 to $299,000.

Lot 28, South Pond Shores, Greenwood: Hidden in the mountains of western Maine sits South Pond, home to canoes, loons, ducks, kayaks, swimmers and water skiers in the summer. Winter brings snowshoes, skis, boards, ice fishing and pond skating. Fall has the red and gold crunch of leaves and spring is the harbinger of fiddleheads, trilliums, wild ferns and fishing. All of this can be yours when you own this 5+/- acre parcel with 300' of private deeded sandy bottom water frontage, in addition to an association owned beach and recreation building. This well wooded lot gently slopes to the water with a newly constructed driveway from the road. The only lot of its kind available for sale. Don't miss this unique opportunity to own a spectacular piece of Maine. Call for details.

CAROLYN BROWN

Our beloved mother, Carolyn Brown, passed away on Tuesday, Feb. 21, 2006. She was a resident of Ledgeview Living Center in West Paris.

Carolyn was pre-deceased by her brothers, Lee and Gordon Billings of Bryant Pond and her wonderful parents, Harry S. and Winola Billings of Milton Plantation.

Carolyn had three daughters, Kerry Barber, Donna Diaz and Wendy Dearth and one son, Donald A. Brown Jr.; six surviving grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren. Also surviving Carolyn are her two loving sisters, Faye Roberts and Beverly Brown of Bryant Pond and her brother, Scott Billings of Milton Plantation.

Carolyn was a loving mother and sister and will be missed by all that knew her.

The family would like to express our deep gratitude to her caregivers at Ledgeview and family members that were with her from the beginning of her life to the end. In loving memory of Carolyn, her children want to say: "Mom we loved you deeply in life and will honor and love you in death." Rest in peace and be happy.

Graveside services will be held in the spring at Abbot's Mills Cemetery, Rumford.

MARGARET F. QUINLAN

Margaret Foster Quinlan, formerly of Hanover, died Feb. 24, 2006 at the Ledgeview Living Center in West Paris.

Margaret was born in New York on Jan. 25, 1925 the daughter of Raymond Celden Foster and Laura Gardner Foster. She attended schools in Garden City, Long Island, graduating from Cathedral School of St. Mary. She spent many summers with her family in Bethel. She married Michael Quinlan and they made their home in Long Island. They enjoyed their visits to her parents' home on Sunday River.

After Michael's death, Margaret moved briefly to Ridge-way, W.Va., before returning to the Bethel area.

Margaret is survived by her niece, Susan Foster Hamill of Richmond, Va.; and two great nieces, Blake Foster Hamill and Carter Bryson Hamill both of whom reside in New York, N.Y.; and other extended family members in the Bethel area. She was predeceased by her husband of many years, Michael; and her brother, Raymond Celden Foster Jr.

The family plans a graveside memorial service in the late spring at the Sunday River Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Locke Mills Union Church, P.O. Box 147, Greenwood, ME 04255-0147.

GWENN G. HOYT

Gwenn Giles Hoyt, 41, a resident of Augusta, formerly of Kennebunk, died suddenly of a brain aneurysm at Maine Medical Center, Portland, on Sunday, Feb. 26, 2006.

Gwenn was born in Newton, Mass., on Nov. 6, 1964, the daughter of Robert A. and Marilyn A. (Hall) Giles of Kennebunk. Gwenn moved to Maine with her family in 1967. She was educated in Kennebunk schools and graduated from SAD71 as valedictorian of the Class of 1983. In 1987, she graduated from Cornell University with a BS degree in Electrical Engineering. Following graduation, Gwenn worked in Vail, Colo., and spent time traveling in Europe. In 1993, she attended the University of Southern Maine and successfully completed the Extended Teacher Education Program (ETEP).

Gwenn taught high school geometry at Erskine Academy in South China for nine years. She also worked at Justice Planning and Management Associates in Farmingdale and served as a consultant in Web design, graphic design, database management, and computer programming.

Gwenn had many interests including camping, skiing, hiking, swimming, photography, cooking, gardening, jewelry making, and crafts. She was very creative and pursued her many activities with an obvious passion. She was a lifelong learner and taught herself many computer skills. She loved working out, healthy eating, and enjoying the Maine coast.

Gwenn was a loving wife, caring daughter, and a loyal and devoted sister. Family and family traditions were very important to her, and she helped preserve these traditions by adopting them as her own. Gwenn created a cookbook of favorite family recipes illustrated with pictures of the grandparents who created them. This has become a prized family possession. She will be sorely missed by family and friends.

Gwenn is survived by her husband of 12 years, Robert P. Hoyt and dog Sadie of Augusta; her parents, Robert A. and Marilyn A. Giles of Kennebunk; her brother, Scott M. Giles, wife Traci, and children, Meghan, Erin, and Alex, of Scarborough; and sister Kelly G. Stuart and husband Jon of Boston, Mass.

Visiting hours will be held on Friday from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Bibber Memorial Chapel, 67 Summer Street, Kennebunk. A funeral mass will be held at St. Mary's Church in Wells at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday. Interment will be in Hope Cemetery, Kennebunk, in the spring. In lieu of flowers, the family suggests that memorial donations be made to the Kennebec Valley Humane Society, Connor Animal Shelter, 10 Pet Haven Lane, Augusta, ME 04330 in her memory.

EDITH MAE HATHAWAY

Edith Mae Andrews Hathaway died Feb. 28, 2006 at her home on Old County Road, Bryant Pond.

She was born in Albany on Dec. 8, 1907, the oldest daughter of Arthur Abel and Bessie Mae (Grover) Andrews. She graduated from Woodstock High School in 1925. After attending Gorham Normal School summer session, and teaching in the Irish Neighborhood of Bethel, she married Harris Elliott Hathaway on June 30, 1928. Mr. Hathaway died in January 1997 after 68 years of marriage.

Lenten Luncheon Series

The Bethel Area Clergy Association and their churches are proud to present the following 2006 Lenten Luncheon Series.

The West Bethel Union Church will be the place each Thursday at noon for the luncheons. We invite you to attend these Lenten Luncheons. The theme for this series is "Jesus' Seven Last words from the Cross." The menu presented by the host church each Thursday will be a variety of soups and bread.

Different clergy of the Bethel area will have a brief meditation on one of Jesus' words. The Rev. Earl Bell and Rev. Franklin Haines chaired the planning of this series.

Engagements

Osgood — Deprey

James and Marjorie Osgood of Newry are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter, Erin Elizabeth, to David (D.J.) Deprey, son of David and Karen Deprey of Fort Kent.

Erin is a 1999 graduate of Telstar Regional High School and received her bachelor of science degree from the University of Maine at Farmington. She is employed by SAD21 as a third/fourth-grade teacher at the Peru Elementary School.

D.J. graduated in 1997 from Fort Kent Community High School and is employed by Bennett's Lumbering of Bethel. The couple is planning an outdoor ceremony on Aug. 12, 2006.

KENISTON SERVICE

Funeral services for Earl "Lefty" Keniston, husband of Mary (Clough) Keniston, who died in South Paris on Feb. 14, were held Saturday, Feb. 25, at the Albany Congregational Church with the Revs. Norman Rust and Ed Gammon officiating. Burial will be in the spring at the Songo Pond Cemetery. Memorials in his memory are requested to the Maine Veterans' Home, Unit C, 477 High Street, South Paris, ME 04218 or to the Songo Cemetery Association, c/o Norma Salway, P.O. Box 245, Bethel, ME 04217.

Waterford Lenten series

The Rev. Anita White, pastor of the Waterford Congregational Church, will again offer a Lenten series of programs open to everyone in Waterford and area towns. The topic will be a continuation of last year's series entitled "Great People of Faith." Rev. White, a former teacher and chaplain at Hebron Academy, will show videos and lead discussion on individuals whose lives have been based on their faiths and who can offer inspiration for our own behavior and choices.

There will be four programs on consecutive Wednesday evenings at 7 p.m. in the Wilkins Community House next to the church at the foot of Plummer Hill in Waterford Village. The dates and topics are March 8, Mother Teresa; March 15, Martin Luther; March 22, Mahatma Gandhi; and March 29, Sacred Stories: Frederick Buechner, James Carroll, Maya Angelou. Come to one or all of the series. No fees, pre-registration, textbooks, homework or tests. For further information, call Rev. White at 782-3193.
